They will have beer tastings of lagers and seasonal ales, all brewed on site, as well as live music. Distribution will begin late this summer. Queens had six breweries in Ridgewood and College Point before Prohibition. After Prohibition, two breweries opened in Long Isl- and City.

Here's the list of proposed Singlecut beers:

The brewery will have a 30-barrel brewhouse, plus multiple 60-barrel fermenters (Rulpsen) and lagering. It'll also contain a tasting room for sampling, a live stage for music, and an area for growler fills and sales. All of the beer they brew will be brewed, under one roof in Queens.
